

Press statement

Quezon City, 04 October 2018

TERMINATION OF THE SOUTHWEST MONSOON

Recent analyses showed a significant weakening of the southwest monsoon winds over the last few days. With this development, the southwest monsoon season or known locally as "Habagat" has ended.

Moreover, the strengthening of the high pressure systems over the Asian continent suggests the gradual transition of the season. This pattern will lead to the beginning of the northeast monsoon "Amihan" season in the coming days.

VICENTE B. MALANO Ph.D.
Administrator

"tracking the sky.....helping the country!"